

Brianna Nicole Cooley is a DMV-based dance educator, choreographer, and performing artist with over 15 years of training and professional experience. She began her formal dance education at Fran Peters' Studio of Dance and continued her training at Agency 9 Dance Studio and as a pre-professional company member of Capitol Movement, Inc., where she developed a strong foundation in contemporary dance.

Her training includes prestigious intensives and residencies with Debbie Allen Dance Academy, The Rock School of Ballet, Maryland Youth Ballet, and Dance Theatre of Harlem's Youth Residency. Brianna's performance credits include Walt Disney World, FedEx Field, and the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. She is also a former Washington Football Team All-Star dancer and has performed in The Nutcracker with the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago.

A graduate of the Center for Visual & Performing Arts at Suitland High School, Brianna brings both discipline and creativity into the classroom. Her teaching approach centers on strong technique, musicality, and storytelling, while encouraging dancers to grow with confidence and intention.

As an educator, Brianna believes in continual growth, knowing that maintaining her own technical sharpness allows her to pour more fully into her students. She has taught, guest instructed, and choreographed throughout Washington, DC, Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania, and is deeply passionate about giving back to the dance community by guiding students through both technical development and personal growth—empowering the next generation of artists to find their voice through movement.
