

Precious Simone was born and raised in Upper Marlboro, Maryland, where her love for dance began in church at a young age. What started as joyful movement soon grew into formal training at a local dance studio, inspiring her to pursue dance as a career.

She went on to attend AMDA College and Conservatory of the Performing Arts in New York City and Los Angeles, earning a BFA in Performing Arts (Dance Theatre) with a minor in Musical Theatre. After college, Precious traveled internationally as a professional dancer, performing with artists such as Todrick Hall and Kanye West, and completing three contracts with Norwegian Cruise Line, where she appeared in various musicals and aerial productions.

Now, Precious is focused on exploring her passion for teaching, continuing to expand her artistry, and giving back to her community through dance education. When she's not in the studio, she enjoys reading, roller skating, and writing poetry. She is always finding new ways to move, create, and connect.
